During the month of December, stop by Big Pillow Brewing and check out an original art display featuring views of Hot Springs and the French Broad River. There is a reception this Saturday(12/4) from 5-9PM and the artwork will remain in their event space until 12/31. To learn more about Preserving A Picturesque America and their important work, see their website <https://preservationthroughart.org/>

The Hot Springs Christmas parade was in the process of being planned for December 11th, but is now cancelled due to the increased traffic through town during bridge construction along Interstate 40.

A new gallery space will soon be open to the public across from the school in Hot Springs. The gallery is small and intimate, but Terry Thirion intends on having it be a welcoming place for educational art discussions and small art classes in addition to showing some of her work and that of regional artists.

At the present time the old "Depot" building will be used both as a studio and also a gallery by Terry, who shows her work in Asheville at 362 Depot Street and in Charlotte at CarolinaFineArt.

Looks for the official opening date some time later this fall.
