New Art Studio coming to Hot Springs:

A new Gallery space will soon be open to the public across from the school in Hot Springs. The Gallery is small and intimate, but Terry intends on having it be a welcoming place for educational art discussions and small art classes in addition to showing some of her work and that of regional artists. At the present time the old "Depot" building will be used both as a studio and also a Gallery by Terry Thirion, who shows her work in Asheville at 362 Depot Street and in Charlotte at Carolina Fine Art. Looks for the official opening date sometime in October of 2021
